

Techniques for leading in continued uncertainty

Do you have a plan or are you hoping for the best in this 'new normal' world we now live in?

Outline for today's one hour session

1. Leading when uncertainty is pervasive and intense
2. Three things you can control
3. Four behaviours which are vital
4. Five key areas for effective change and what happens when they are missing
5. Action Plan for next steps

This is what Legal Business Owners/Partners have said about my leadership workshop:

"I would recommend as it wasn't full of theories and quotes from leadership books but a practical course on change and the difficulties we might face. It contained useful tips and tools which could be put into practice." Danielle Day Partner Berwins

"I recently attended Ann's training session and thank goodness I did. It was invaluable to recognise my own worries about coming out of lockdown and moving beyond the autopilot of adrenaline that many of us have been on for the last 15 months. This helped me recognise what I needed and what the people around me needed. Suddenly, following Ann's training, the negative became a positive – not just for me – but everyone at my place of work." Laura Mounsey Partner Harrogate Family Law

Cost: £99.00 (no VAT) per delegate and this interactive session is limited to 5 delegates to ensure that everyone has full opportunity to have their concerns answered.

Booking Details: Please email ann@yorkshirecoursesforlawyers.co.uk to reserve your place

N.B. For those who wish you pursue their mastery of business including leadership skills, Ann's third book: is written for you: Business skills? Don't be daft I am a lawyer! contains 29 business journey stories of Legal Business Owners as well as a 'how to' section; and is endorsed by three managing partners.

BUSINESS SKILLS?
DON'T BE DAFT, I AM A LAWYER!

Ann's third book shows lawyers why business skills are so important in the changing legal/professional landscape and shouldn't be a 'poor relation'. With the advent of AI you do not want to be just a legal technician. The first five sections provide practical advice, tools and techniques to lead you through the process of your own business journey, wherever you are. Ann helps you to think about the different aspects involved in setting up your own business using language that is easy to understand and absorb. There are plenty of practical exercises to complete to help you undertake the necessary groundwork.

Section six contains 29 inspirational stories of legal professionals who have forged their own path.

"I recommend anyone thinking about setting up their own legal practice, or indeed any business delivering professional services, to first read this book - it is essential reading."

Reading about the journeys undertaken by her 'Stars' provides a fascinating insight into the motivation, challenges and ethos of those who have had the courage to set up their own businesses - inspirational reading! I wish this book had been around when I became managing partner at Raworths."

*Zoe Robinson
Managing Partner, Raworths*

BUSINESS SKILLS?
DON'T BE DAFT, I AM A LAWYER!

"Ann's book is an absolute must read not just for business owners or those looking to set up in business, but for anyone looking to move into a leadership role."

*Rachel Roberts
Managing Partner, Stowe Family Law LLP (Leeds)*

BUSINESS SKILLS?
DON'T BE DAFT
I AM A LAWYER!

What you need and why you need it

Ann Page

Ann Page

ISBN 978-1-9162992-0-7

9 781916 299207

RRP £24.95

Sharing 29 inspirational stories of Yorkshire Legal Stars who have forged their own path